COMPETITION

About the competition

After two successful editions of CCIC ,a unique initiative in realm of international law, we are back with the 3rd edition of CCIC. This year the participants will get the opportunity to acquire knowledge of Aviation Law and apply the same to a mock crisis situation.. Participants are expected to organize their teams in order to effectively deal with the issue at hand, establish priorities, and make use of their skills in a limited time frame with a view to address the challenges placed before them.

The participant-teams will attend learning sessions conducted by renowned scholars in International Law. This will be followed by the participant-teams being administered with a mock proposition and teams applying the acquired knowledge to it. The teams shall make presentations of their solutions to the crisis in the mock proposition after a stipulated period of time allotted to them.

The ability to accurately analyze situations in the context of International Law and to provide an effective solution shall be assessed based on the Understanding of the issues, Application of law, Effective arguments, Eloquence and Team work.
