The Faculty of Law has been a pioneer of Legal Education of Bharatvarsh. Law School has introduced the three-year LL.B. course and two-year LL.M. Programme in the country. It has taken the lead in introducing a Two-year full-time Master's in Human Rights and Duties Education (HRDE) and presently offers a Five-year B.A. LL.B. integrated course and One-year LL.M. under the scheme-special courses of studies. The Faculty of Law also runs post-graduate part-time Diploma courses in various fields- Taxation, Corporate Governance, Media, Forensic Science and Human Resource Management and Service and Industrial Law. Mahamana Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya, the founder of Banaras Hindu University, served many years as Dean of Law School. The legal luminaries like Sir Ras Behari Ghosh and Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru, were the earlier Deans. The Banaras Law School was one of the Six Law Faculties in India to start Clinical Legal Services. The model developed by Law School has been judged as the best model by Hon'ble Mr. Justice P. N. Bhagwati, former Chief Justice of India. The Law school publishes a highly reputed Law Journal, 'Banaras Law Journal' since 1965. The Faculty is also organizing the Mahamana National Moot Court competition since 2013. The illustrious alumnus Justice Giridhar Malaviya Ji is presently Chancellor of the University.

Banaras Hindu University

The establishment of the Banaras Hindu University was a landmark in the history of University education in this country. It was the first residential University to be established in Bharatvarsh. The prime instrument of the Divine Will in this work was Mahamana Pandit Madan Mohan Malviyaji, one of the greatest sons of our motherland. In the educational field, Banaras Hindu University remains and will remain a permanent monument to his life and personality. The ideal before Pandit Malaviyaji in establishing this University was to make available to the country in every field, men and women of high character with patriotism. Banaras Hindu University is an internationally reputed temple of learning and ranks among the top universities of Bharatvarsh in the field of academic and research output, situated in the holy city of Varanasi. The university comprises 8 Institutes, 15 Faculties, 146 Departments, 4 Interdisciplinary Centres, a constituent college for women, 4 affiliated colleges and 3 Constituent Schools, spanning a vast range of subjects about all branches of Humanities, Social Science, Law, Technology, Medicine, Science, Fine Arts and Performing arts. More than thirty thousand students are enrolled in university for different courses and research degrees.

Kashi

Kashi, Banaras or Varanasi has been the prime centre of Hindu thought and culture radiating spiritual lights and wisdom from time immemorial. This is the place where great Vyasa wrote Mahabharata and the eighteen Puranas. This is the place where Lord Buddha preached his first sermon after attaining enlightenment and “set in motion” the “Wheel of Dharma”. Varanasi is a city of traditional classical culture, glorified by myths and legends and sanctified by religion, it has always attracted a large number of pilgrims and worshippers from time immemorial. To be in a holy city is an experience in itself an experience in self-discovery of an eternal oneness of the body and soul. To every visitor, Varanasi offers a breath-taking experience. Varanasi is also renowned for its rich tapestry of music, arts, crafts and education. In fact, the real Varanasi is super physical and spiritual rather than physical or material.

Concept Note

The Chandogya Upanishad states that “सा विद्या या विमुक्तये” translated as “knowledge is one that liberates”. Since knowledge is the essence of education, therefore, education is fundamental for attaining full human potential, making an equitable and just society, and promoting national development. The objective of education is to lead the ‘full development of the human personality’ has been reflected in many International documents including the International Commission on Education for the Twenty-first Century’s Report on ‘Learning: The Treasure Within’ submitted to UNESCO. The objective of BHU is to promote the building up of character in youth by Dharma and ethics as an integral part of education.

In the present formal world, law become an integral part of society and is reflected in the ‘Collective Consciences’ (Durkheim), ‘Volksgeist’ (Seigney), and ‘time-honoured customs of the flock’ (Ross). The working of law and the effectiveness of the legal System in the life of the nation are somehow dependent on Legal Education. Therefore, Legal education reform is taking place around the globe to make it more responsive than ever before to meet the legal needs of the community and nation as well as global requirements.

The National Education Policy, 2020 in para 20.4, noted that “Legal education needs to be competitive globally, adopting best practices and embracing new technologies for wider access to and timely delivery of justice. At the same time, it must be informed and illuminated with Constitutional values of Justice - Social, Economic, and Political - and directed towards national reconstruction through the Instrumentation of Democracy, Rule of Law, and Human Rights.”

However, even after 75 years of our independence, we have not been able to develop an indigenous or Indic school of jurisprudence. Any legal system that lacks the native and ethnic character of the society will ultimately fail the test of time in the course of society’s transformation. Contemporary legal education in India has largely been coaxed by colonial notions. There is an Indian imperative not only to decolonise laws but also to radically restructure legal education in the same context. The National Education Policy, 2020 in para 20.4 further states that “The curricula for legal studies must reflect socio-cultural contexts along with, in an evidence-based manner, the history of legal thinking, principles of justice, the practice of jurisprudence, and other related content appropriately and adequately. State institutions offering law education must consider offering bilingual education for future lawyers and judges - in English and in the language of the State in which the institution is situated.”

Coming to the Vision Statement of the Bar Council of India (2010-2017), it identified inadequate quality of legal education and infrastructure and lack of relevant skills training to meet the ever-changing demands of the modern world. In the present geopolitical era, India is transforming into a leading geo-economic power. Hence, the need of the hour is to revise and revamping of all aspects of the legal education structure, including its regulation and governance, with aspirational goals.

Faculty of Law, Banaras Hindu University has been in existence ever since the University was inaugurated. On the 21st July, 1923 Dr. Sir Tej Bahadu Sapru, Dr. M. L. Agrawal, Dr. Kailash Nath Katju, Sri. Anandi Prasad Dube, Munshi Mahadev Prasad, Sri. P. N. Sapru, Sri. Sankar Saran, Sri. A. N. Sanyal, Sri. K. N. Malviya, Sri. Abdul Hamid, Sri. Banshidhar, and Dr. Walliullah were appointed as honorary Professors of Law for a period of two years. On 4th August, 1923, the Law classes were inaugurated by Sri. Asutosh Mookerjee. We decided, in 1960 that: “The Banaras Law School should be a pioneer institution of legal education in India with an excellent team of teachers and a selected student body and, thereby, carrying further the all-important task of an educational renaissance in the country in a manner befitting the monumental efforts of the founder of the university.” As an institution, we believe that legal education will produce men adept in tailoring legal prescriptions to the needs of contemporary Bhartvarsh.

Faculty of Law, BHU has significantly contributed to the legal education of our country over last 100 years. In the centennial year of the Law School, we want to explain the present state of legal education and want to define the future of legal education for the nation as well as for our institution. The objective of the Conference is to understand the gap between the current state of legal education and what is required. The gap must be bridged through undertaking major reforms that bring the highest quality, equity, and integrity into Legal education.

The Bhagavad-gītā states that तद्विद्धि प्रणिपातेन परिप्रश्नेन सेवया। उपदेश्यन्ति ते ज्ञानं ज्ञानिनस्तत्त्वदर्शिनः ॥4/34॥ “translated as....try to learn the truth by approaching the scholar, Inquire from him submissively and render service unto him. Self-realised souls can impart knowledge to you because they have seen the truth.”

In this background, we are calling and requesting legal Scholars, academia, professionals and administrators for their participation in the conference. The themes and sub-themes for the National Conference include:
