

7th Max Planck European Postdoctoral Conference on Tax Law

Call for Papers & Save the Date

The Max Planck Institute for Tax Law and Public Finance, Department of Business and Tax Law, invites young scholars to attend the 7th Max Planck European Postdoctoral Conference on Tax Law, which will be held on 14–15 October 2024 in Munich.

The conference provides postdoctoral researchers in the field of tax law with a platform for presenting and discussing their research projects with peers from all over Europe and for fostering the pan-European academic exchange of ideas.

As the success of the six previous Max Planck European Postdoctoral Conferences on Tax Law has shown, there is much to be gained from discussions within an international setting. This is especially true since international developments have an increasing impact on national tax systems: European law limits the tax sovereignty of Member States in cross-border situations; national tax policies are driven by the necessities of international tax competition; globalisation breeds new forms of economic integration challenging traditional rules of international taxation. Tax law research reflects these developments by placing more and more emphasis on the European, on the international, and on the comparative perspective.

The Max Planck Institute for Tax Law and Public Finance solicits proposals for presentations of about 30 minutes from scholars who either hold a doctoral degree or will complete their doctoral studies in the course of 2024, and who are not (yet) full professors. Both work in progress and finalised research may be presented. The presentations should be given in English.

To apply, please send an abstract of no more than 500 words by 1st June 2024 (postdoc-conference2024@tax.mpg.de). Scholars whose proposals are selected for presentation will be notified no later than 15 June 2024. A detailed invitation including the conference program will follow soon thereafter.

The Max Planck Institute for Tax Law and Public Finance will organise the travel itinerary and accommodation of the invited conference speakers and bear the costs. All speakers will be invited to the conference dinner on the evening of 14 October 2024.

If you have further questions, please do not hesitate to contact us.

We are looking forward to a fascinating and enjoyable conference with you!
