ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE AND LAW

Submission Deadline: 31st October, 2024

THEME

The burgeoning field of Artificial Intelligence (AI) is rapidly transforming our world, and the legal system and justice administration of every governance are no exceptions. This book will be a comprehensive resource examining the complex interplay between these rapidly evolving fields and also explore the intricate interplay between AI and the pursuit of justice. It will address the legal and governance challenges posed by AI advancements and explore potential solutions for navigating this new technological landscape.

This book will be a valuable resource for academics, legal professionals, policymakers, and anyone interested in the evolving relationship between AI and Law. Thus, editors are seeking original chapter submissions for this forthcoming book exploring the intersection of Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Law. We also encourage a multidisciplinary approach that integrates legal, technological, and social science perspectives.
