About the Conference

On the occasion of the World Creativity and Innovation Day, 2025 the Centre for Development of Intellectual Property and Research (CDIPR), Naovina Development of Intellectual Property and Research Foundation in association with the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) and the Indian Centre for Child and Human Rights (ICCHR), is organising the “International Conference On Creativity, Innovation and Artificial Intelligence for Global Sustainability”, celebrating the fusion of creativity, technology, and sustainability in shaping our shared future.

This conference invites academics, researchers, policy-makers, students, innovators and legal professionals from across the globe to engage in interdisciplinary dialogue focused on how Artificial Intelligence (AI) and innovation can solve pressing global challenges in climate, governance, human development and sustainable growth.

Harvard, NUS, Berkeley, etc. The summit demonstrated the urgent need to realign Intellectual Property (IP) frameworks with the challenges of digital transformation, climate change, and global equity. One of the key takeaways from the IP Summit was that intellectual property is no longer just a legal domain—it is a vehicle for creativity, innovation and sustainability in the 21st century. In this spirit, CDIPR brings together innovators, researchers, environmentalists, technologists and legal scholars for a conference that explores the intersections of AI, human creativity, innovation and planetary Sustainability.

Objectives of the Conference
