PLSC-EUROPE 2025 (LEIDEN) – CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

We are excited to announce a call for abstracts for the European Privacy Law Scholars Conference, which will be hosted at Leiden University on 23 and 24 October 2025.

Following the format of PLSC in the United States, PLSC Europe is a conference for stimulating work in progress. Discussants, rather than authors, kick off and lead a conversation on a paper. There are no panels or presentations by the authors. Attendees read papers in advance and offer constructive feedback as full participants in the workshop. Having your paper accepted is not a requirement for attending and contributing to the conference, and indeed many attendees do not present a paper.

Our goal is to improve and provide support for in-progress scholarship on a wide variety of issues and topics that touch upon privacy in its broadest interpretation. As such, we very much welcome submissions from different (sub)disciplines, taking alternative angles to privacy and data governance more broadly. More information on the conference and scope can be found on our dedicated webpage.

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS AND GUIDELINES

If you would like to workshop a paper, please submit an abstract via our conference management system by 12 May 2025:

Abstracts should be between 400-700 words and contain sufficient detail to review the approach and potential contribution of the work (for more detailed instructions, see website).

The program committee for the conference will review (double-blind) abstracts. Authors of abstracts that are accepted will be notified by 20 June 2025. Workshop versions of the paper are due by 1 October 2025. We reserve the right to cancel workshops if the paper draft is not provided on time for meaningful evaluation by participants. The confirmation of the conference and of its logistics will follow in further communication.
