

The EUI has an open vacancy for a

Research Assistant in the

Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies

Florence, 09 April 2025

Reference: V/RA/RSC/11/2025

Who we are

The European University Institute (EUI) at a glance:

- an international organisation set up in 1972;
- a research university focusing exclusively on postgraduate, doctoral and post-doctoral studies, and advanced research;
- located in the hills overlooking the city of Florence, Italy.

The Institute also hosts the Historical Archives of the European Union.

The Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies (LINK ADDED) is an inter-disciplinary research centre at the heart of the European University Institute (EUI). It was established in 1992 to complement the four EUI disciplinary departments (Economics, History and Civilization, Law, Political and Social Sciences) with the aim to be involved in both basic and policy research, collaborate with other centres of excellence in Europe, provide opportunities for young scholars and promote dialogue with the world of practice. The Centre's goal is to maintain an environment and support structure that fosters intellectual curiosity and excellent research. The research agenda of the Centre is currently guided by three major themes: Integration, Governance and Democracy; Regulating Markets and Governing Money; and 21st Century World Politics and Europe.

The Centre for a Digital Society \(CDS\), which is part of the RSCAS, is an academic hub gathering scholars, public enforcers, practitioners, and representatives of the industry and civil society to debate the challenges of digital transformation and its impact on markets and democracy. The Centre builds upon the experience gained during the past decade by the Florence School of Regulation – Communications and Media Area (FSR C&M) and by the Florence Competition Programme (FCP). With the establishment of the CDS, the two projects merge into a unique programme, broadening their focus beyond the regulation of the media sector and competition policy. Within the Robert Schuman Centre, the CDS sets the ground for close collaboration with the Centre for Media Pluralism and Media Freedom.

Project details

With its research, policy debate and training programme, the Centre for a Digital Society \(CDS\) aims at advising policy makers on how to cope with the challenges that digitalisation poses to markets and democracy. To do so, it adopts an interdisciplinary approach relying on in-house expertise in law, economics and political sciences. For a better understanding of the technical aspects of digitalisation, the Centre actively cooperates with computer scientists and engineers from partner institutions.

The Centre engages in the public debate on digitalisation by focusing on the following core areas:

- Innovation: this area deals with General Purpose Technologies, standardisation, and the evolution of intellectual property rights in the digital context;
- Competition, with a strong focus on competition policy in digital markets;
- Regulation, to address the evolution of sectoral regulation in electronic communications, media and postal markets, as well as the emerging regulatory framework for digital platforms
- Democracy: this area assesses the role of digitalisation in the evolution of civic participation, good governance and fundamental rights.

Job description

The Research Assistant will provide research assistance to the Directors of the programme with a focus on competition and/or regulation in the digital economy.
