EU-Indo Pacific Jean Monnet Module Teaching Programme - June 2025

ABOUT THE COURSE

The EU-IndoPac Jean Monnet Teaching Module (40 hours) provides a unique opportunity to gain insight into the EU's policy and legal developments shaping the Indo-Pacific region. This programme for the month of June examines EU-India investment relations and the legal landscape, focusing on the potential for Bilateral Investment Treaties (BITs) in the context of the European Green Deal and digital market regulations. It explores how these factors can shape future investment strategies and economic partnerships. Additionally, this crash course is designed to equip the next generation of law and policy students with the knowledge and skills to understand the complexities of the EU's evolving global role and its impact on the Indo-Pacific. The programme is jointly organized by UCLouvain, IEE St Louis Belgium, (ranked 180th in the QS World University Rankings), and the Department of Studies in Law, University of Mysore, Karnataka, India, 570006. It is open to students (Bachelor of Laws, Master of Laws, PhD scholars), as well as practitioners and experts from the Indo-Pacific region, offering a unique opportunity to participate with no tuition or registration fees. The course will be held online from 2nd June to 4th June 2025, with an essay-type examination scheduled for 5th June 2025. Upon successful completion, participants will receive a certificate of participation issued by UCLouvain, IEE St Louis.

PROGRAMME BENEFITS

The program offers a comprehensive understanding of the political and legal dynamics of the European Union and its external role, with a particular focus on the Indo-Pacific region.

The crash course is structured into five sessions that cover four key regulatory areas:

- i. Promotion of free, fair, and sustainable trade through bilateral treaties
- ii. EU strategic autonomy and screening of foreign investments
- iii. Sustainability in regulating trade in products and commodities
- iv. EU digital strategy

Additional Benefits:

- 1) The course culminates in an exam or essay, and successful completion will earn participants a certificate of participation.
- 2) This program offers a unique opportunity to participate without any tuition or registration fees, making it accessible to a broad range of individuals.

TEACHING STAFF & SPEAKERS

The lectures will be delivered by distinguished academic experts with extensive international experience in EU law, policy, and their application in the Indo-Pacific region.

ABOUT UCLouvain SAINT-LOUIS BRUSSELS

UCLouvain Saint-Louis Brussels, ranked 180th globally by QS, is an esteemed autonomous campus specializing in social and human sciences, located in Brussels, Belgium. Founded in 1857, it was initially a public university under the French Community of Belgium, before merging with the University of Louvain in 2017, and officially consolidating in 2023 under the unified name UCLouvain. The institution's roots trace back to the École de Commerce et d'Industrie established in 1838, later evolving into the Institut Saint-Louis. Over time, it became an independent university, offering a rich academic legacy in philosophy, law, economics, and the arts. It pioneered Belgium's first independent business school, HEC Saint-Louis, and has made significant contributions to European and interdisciplinary studies.

UCLouvain Saint-Louis Brussels now comprises five faculties: Philosophy, Arts and Human Sciences, Law, Economics and Social Sciences (ESPO), the Marie Haps Faculty of Translation and Interpreting, and the Institute for European Studies. It offers 25 bachelor programs, two master's degrees, and several postgraduate qualifications, with a distinctive focus on bilingual, trilingual, and English-taught degrees in business engineering. The university also boasts a robust research framework with institutes and centers dedicated to interdisciplinary studies, Brussels-centric research, and European studies. Notably, the Brussels Studies Institute, co-founded with two other universities, is a prominent example of its collaborative research approach. With its rich history, pioneering academic programs, and global research impact, UCLouvain Saint-Louis Brussels stands as a leading institution at the intersection of tradition, innovation, and international collaboration.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT OF STUDIES IN LAW AND UNIVERSITY OF MYSORE

The Department of Studies in Law, established in 1973 at the University of Mysore, is a premier institution for legal education in Southern India. Renowned for its academic rigor, the department offers a distinguished two-year LL.M. program with specializations in Constitutional Law, International Law, and more. The program emphasizes research, requiring students to complete dissertations that hone their legal analysis skills. Additionally, the department offers a robust Ph.D. program that fosters high-level research. With state-of-the-art facilities and a faculty of excellence, the department attracts students globally, solidifying its position as a hub for legal scholarship and future legal leaders.

The University of Mysore, established on July 27, 1916, is the sixth oldest university in India and the first in Karnataka. Founded by Maharaja Nalvadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar and Diwan M. Visvesvaraya, it is renowned for its academic legacy and was the first university to receive NAAC's Five Star Status in 2000. Located in Mysuru, a cultural hub known for its palaces and gardens, the university provides a stimulating environment for intellectual growth. With a vision to become a world-class institution, the University focuses on producing leaders equipped to address both global and local challenges. It strives for academic excellence through high-quality teaching, research, and extension activities. The main campus, Manasagangotri, spans 739 acres and is home to 85 PG departments offering over 150 programs. With extensive national and international collaborations, the university serves over 120,000 students. In 2020, the Government of India granted the university Rs. 100 crores, elevating it to an Institution of Excellence and fostering cutting-edge research in biodiversity, bio-prospecting, and sustainable development.
