

CALL FOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS

JOURNAL OF CORPORATE LAW STUDIES

³ Overview

The Journal of Corporate Law Studies covers corporate law and corporate governance, capital market and broader financial regulation, and restructuring and insolvency. Our strong global perspective and interdisciplinary understanding of financial, economic and political contexts and the impact of technological developments makes us the ‘go to’ source for a fully developed, rigorously analytical view of the area. It is a Q1 journal with an Impact Factor score of 1.2 (2023) and acceptance rate of 11%.

The editorial team is now looking to expand its regional expertise and appoint Associate Editors with strong networks in Africa, Asia, Australasia, North America, and South America. Appointments will be for 2 years (renewable). You will be joining a supportive editorial team.

Editorial team

The Editors in Chief are Victoria Barnes, Joan Loughrey, Jennifer Trinks and Sally Wheeler. Lynn Buckley and Philip Gavin serve as the Book Review Editors.

About you

You will have a strong regional network in one or more of the regions listed above. You will have a strong publication record in corporate law and be a considerate peer reviewer.

How to apply

Please submit a short CV and a 2 page cover letter to editorjcls@qub.ac.uk by 4 July 2025.

For an informal discussion of the role, please contact Victoria Barnes on v.barnes@qub.ac.uk
