ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

The conference aims to bring together global scholars, practitioners, and policymakers to explore how research can drive ethical practices, promote social equity, and empower communities. In an era marked by disruption and transformation, this interdisciplinary forum encourages dialogue across Humanities, Social Sciences, and Management to shape a more just and inclusive future.

OBJECTIVES

- To foster academic discussion on ethical frameworks in contemporary research.
- To explore inclusive practices that reduce disparities in education, governance, and development.
- To promote empowerment through knowledge dissemination and policy innovation.
- To build collaborations for social impact through interdisciplinary research.
